

Principle three: improving the quality of communication, consultation and information exchange

How do we improve the quality of communication, consultation and information exchange?

“Improving communications by including as many people as possible.”